Strategies that Work in Breaking Bad News

Robert Buckman, M.D., Ph.D.

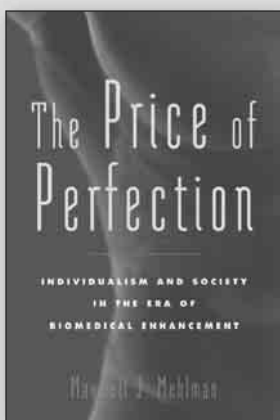

Feminist Bioethics

At the Center, on the Margins

edited by Jackie Leach Scully, Ph.D.,

Laurel E. Baldwin-Ragaven, M.D.C.M., and Petya Fitzpatrick, M.A.

New

The Price of Perfection
Individualism and Society in the Era of Biomedical Enhancement

Maxwell J. Mehlman

Mehlman tells the story of how drugs and other biomedical interventions to enhance human performance came about and examines the issues they present. He explores the policy options for maximizing the societal benefits and minimizing the harms from these technologies and offers a set of realistic recommendations to guide public policy making.

978-0-8018-9263-9 $25.00 hardcover

Wrong Place, Wrong Time Trauma and Violence in the Lives of Young Black Men

John A. Rich, M.D., M.P.H.

Medical school taught Rich how to deal with physical trauma in a big city hospital but not with the disturbing fact that young black men were daily shot, stabbed, and beaten. This is Rich's account of his personal search to find sense in the juxtaposition of his life and theirs.

2009 232 pp.
978-0-8018-9363-6 $24.95 hardcover

Ethics and Newborn Genetic Screening New Technologies, New Challenges

edited by Mary Ann Baily and Thomas H. Murray

The contributors to this provocative collection study the complex ethical and policy challenges present in the changing newborn screening environment and offer guidance to professionals, policy-makers, and the general public.

Legal Conceptions

The Evolving Law and Policy of Assisted Reproductive Technologies

Susan L. Crockin, J.D., and Howard W. Jones, Jr., M.D.

“The book is encyclopedic in its review of events that have shaped ART over the past three decades. No other publication has undertaken to compile such a review of relevant events, cases, law, and policies.”

—Judith F. Daar, author of Reproductive Technologies and the Law

2009 416 pp., 1 line drawing
978-0-8018-9388-9 $55.00 hardcover

Medicine and Health Care in Early Christianity

Gary B. Ferngren

Ferngren provides a comprehensive historical account of medicine and medical philanthropy in early Christianity that goes beyond earlier specialized studies. He draws both on New Testament studies and on recent scholarship on the expansion of the Christian church to explain the role that medicine played in the earliest centuries of Christian healing.

Defining the Beginning and End of Life

Readings on Personal Identity and Bioethics

edited by John P. Lizza

This collection of essays examines alternative theories about persons and personal identity at the beginning and end of life. The contributions seek to answer the important question, When does a person begin and cease to exist?

2009 600 pp., 1 line drawing
978-0-8018-9337-7 $30.00 paperback

Preventive Strikes

Women, Precancer, and Prophylactic Surgery

Ilana Löwy

Some women will never develop breast or ovarian cancer, but they nevertheless must decide, as a result of genetic testing, whether to have their breasts and ovaries removed to avoid the possibility of disease. The striking contrast between the sophistication of diagnosis and the crudeness of preventive surgery forms the basis of Löwy's important study.

2009 344 pp., 11 b&w illustrations
978-0-8018-9364-3 $50.00 hardcover

Personal Identity and Fractured Selves

Perspectives from Philosophy, Ethics, and Neuroscience edited by Debra J. H. Mathews, Ph.D., M.A., Hilary Bok, Ph.D., and Peter V. Rabins, M.D., M.P.H.

This book brings together some of the best minds in neurology and philosophy to discuss the concept of personal identity and the moral dimensions of treating brain disease and injury. The contributors engage a crucial question: When an individual's personality changes radically because of disease or injury, should this changed individual be treated as the same person?

2009 216 pp.
978-0-8018-9338-4 $55.00 hardcover

Performance-Enhancing Technologies in Sports

Ethical, Conceptual, and Scientific Issues

edited by Thomas H. Murray, Karen J. Maschke, and Angela A. Wasunna
