The Social Behavior of Older Animals
Anne Innis Dagg

Dagg explores how aging affects the lives and behavior of animals ranging from orcas and mice to parrots and song sparrows. Synthesizing the available scientific research, she examines the characteristics of these creatures, how they age, and how they interact with other animals. At once instructive and compelling, this species—and theme—spanning study reveals the complex nature of maturity in social animals.

Psychedelic Psychiatry
LSD from Clinic to Campus
Erika Dyck

Tells the tale of medical researchers working at the edge of psychopharmacology to understand the drug’s therapeutic usefulness just as escalating cultural anxieties about drug abuse in modern society laid the groundwork for the end of such experimentation.

Happy Pills in America
From Miltown to Prozac
David Herzberg

“Happy Pills in America is a wonderful read, its thesis engaging, and its style well-paced and fresh . . . For my money, the case that Herzberg puts forward—that the 1950s and 1960s and indeed 1970s were an age of anxiety rather than depression—is compelling.”

—David Healy, author of Mania: A Short History of Bipolar Disorder

Philosophical Issues in Psychiatry
Explanation, Phenomenology, and Nosology edited by Kenneth S. Kendler, M.D., and Josef Parnas, M.D., Dr.Med.Sci.

“Few books on psychiatry explore with seriousness and clarity the difficult problems of explanation, scientific description, and causality. This one does. The introductions are like having an articulate and patient professor at your shoulder.”

—John Z. Sadler, M.D., editor of Descriptions and Prescriptions: Values, Mental Disorders, and the DSM

Forthcoming in Paperback

Conceiving Risk, Bearing Responsibility
Fetal Alcohol Syndrome and the Diagnosis of Moral Disorder
Elizabeth M. Armstrong

“An interesting and informative exploration of the construction of Fetal Alcohol Syndrome (FAS) as a major social problem within the US. It combines an historical overview, epidemiological data, and qualitative interviewing to show clearly how moral values affect medical and policy pronouncements.”

—Sociology of Health and Illness

Wrestling with Behavioral Genetics
Science, Ethics, and Public Conversation edited by Erik Parens, Audrey R. Chapman, and Nancy Press

“Doubtless this book will soon become a classic within behavioral genetics, and compulsory reading for the non-specialist seeking to understand the basic scientific, social, and ethical issues within the field.”

—American Journal of Bioethics
Poets on Prozac
Mental Illness, Treatment, and the Creative Process
edited by Richard M. Berlin, M.D.
Shatters the notion that madness fuels creativity by giving voice to contemporary poets who have battled myriad psychiatric disorders, including depression, schizophrenia, post-traumatic stress disorder, and substance abuse. Featuring examples of each contributor's poetry before, during, and after treatment, this original and thoughtful collection finally puts to rest the idea that a tortured soul is one's finest muse.

2008 200 pp. 978-0-8018-8839-7 $21.95 hardcover

Mania
A Short History of Bipolar Disorder
David Healy
“A distinct and powerful view of the history of psychiatry that arouses controversy in the best sense of the word. Healy’s discussion of the role of drug companies is especially right on the mark.”
—Gerald N. Grob, Rutgers University

2008 376 pp., 6 line illustrations 978-0-8018-8822-9 $24.95 hardcover

Through the Seasons
An Activity Book for Memory-Challenged Adults and Caregivers
Cynthia R. Green, Ph.D., and Joan Beloff, ACC, ALA
“This book provides a great way to interrupt the daily routines of caregiving with activities that are easy and fun for both the caregiver and the person with dementia. The ideas offered are realistic yet adult in tone, rely on life-long experiences, and are simple to put together.”
—Nancy L. Mace, co-author of The 36-Hour Day

2008 64 pp., 16 color photographs 978-0-8018-8844-1 $19.95 hardcover

Remembering Home
Rediscovering the Self in Dementia
Habib Chaudhury
“A wonderful book! Place as well as time as the taproots of memory is beautifully demonstrated in this book. This book also offers strategies for health care professionals and activity staff members in bringing place and home into their programmed activities and conversations with older adults who have dementia.”
—Robert N. Butler, M.D., President and CEO, International Longevity Center-USA

2008 144 pp., 35 b&w photographs 978-0-8018-8827-4 $20.00 paperback
Clinical Handbook of Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder and Related Problems

edited by Jonathan S. Abramowitz, Dean McKay, and Steven Taylor

The only work on OCD that covers treatment options for specific symptoms and the full spectrum of related disorders, this handbook is a must-have for clinicians who are dedicated to improving the lives of patients with these challenging mental conditions.

2008 304 pp., 5 b&w illustrations
978-0-8018-8697-3 $60.00 hardcover

Addiction Treatment

Science and Policy for the Twenty-first Century edited by Jack E. Henningfield, Patricia B. Santora, and Warren K. Bickel

“Well written, solidly grounded in science, and thought provoking. The essays provide a kaleidoscopic view of the state of the art of addiction treatment in the context of social, political, and economic limitations.”

—Susan M. Stine, M.D., Ph.D., Wayne State University School of Medicine, coeditor of New Treatments for Opiate Dependence

2007 248 pp., 11 color photographs, 10 b&w illustrations
978-0-8018-8669-0 $45.00 hardcover

Take Control of Your Drinking . . . And You May Not Need to Quit

Michael S. Levy, Ph.D.

“A tremendous resource for individuals who drink too much . . . Levy does an excellent job of helping readers determine if they have an alcohol problem and sets up very clear and simple steps to moderate drinking for those who are not better recommended to an abstinance lifestyle.”

—Andrew F. Angelino, M.D., Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions

978-0-8018-8668-3 $18.95 paperback

Last Call

Alcoholism and Recovery
Jack H. Hedblom, M.S.W., Ph.D.

foreword by Paul R. McHugh, M.D.

The journey from alcoholic insanity to sobriety—and the pivotal role of Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) in navigating that transition—is the focus of this book. Through powerful first-person narratives, psychotherapist Hedblom provides compelling insights into the minds and hearts of addicted drinkers, and reveals the road to recovery as a journey of self-discovery, change, and hope.

978-0-8018-8678-2 $18.95 paperback
Perspectives and Concepts

The Mind Has Mountains
Reflections on Society and Psychiatry
Paul R. McHugh, M.D.
“A well-written and thought-provoking volume of essays that gives mental health professionals and interested lay readers one view into topics that have been prominent at the interface between psychiatry and society for the past two decades.”

—New England Journal of Medicine

2002 418 pp., 5 line drawings
978-0-8018-6840-5 $51.95 hardcover

General Psychopathology
Karl Jaspers
translated by J. Hoenig and Marian W. Hamilton with a new introduction by Paul R. McHugh, M.D.

Jaspers critiques the scientific aspirations of psychotherapy, arguing that in the realm of the human, the explanation of behavior through the observation of regularity and patterns in it must be supplemented by an understanding of the “meaning-relations” experienced by human beings.

A Comprehensive Theory
John E. Gedo, M.D.
Gedo discusses Freud’s enduring contributions to the field of psychoanalysis, the importance of both mental contents and reliable, measurable psychobiological data, and each of the major topics of a comprehensive theory of mind. Gedo integrates these theories into a biological hypothesis about behavior and psychoanalytic treatment.
