On Depression
Drugs, Diagnosis, and Despair in the Modern World
Nassir Ghaemi

“Ghaemi, a distinguished psychiatrist of vast clinical experience, will open many patients’ eyes: Does my kind of depression need medication? If it isn’t depression I have, what’s going on with me? Even more penetrating: My happiness is abnormal? These are not trivial questions, and Ghaemi’s mastery of literature as well as clinical learning makes the lessons go down mighty easily.”
—Edward Shorter, Ph.D., FRSC, University of Toronto
2013  232 pp.  978-1-4214-0933-7  $24.95 hardcover

Also available as an e-book

Competing with the Soviets
Science, Technology, and the State in Cold War America
Audra J. Wolfe

“Wolfe’s book is the more traditional alternative to the case study: a synthetic overview. And it is a reminder of how valuable a clear, well-researched synthesis—one sophisticated, holistic take on all those little case studies—can be.”
—American Science

2012 176 pp., 15 halftones
978-1-4214-0769-2  $45.00 hardcover
