

Preparing book reviews for publication in Twentieth-Century China

Last updated February 2022. Copyright © 2016–2022, Twentieth Century China Journal, Inc. All rights reserved.

Important requirements

- ◆ Book reviews—including header block, author block, and any footnotes—should not normally exceed 1,100 words in length (or an alternate limit agreed upon with the book review editor).
- ◆ The header block should list the author(s), full title, name of book series (if applicable), place of publication, publisher, date of publication, page count (excluding front matter), and price:
    Firstname Lastname. The Title of the Work under Review: Including Any Subtitle. Name of Book Series If Applicable. Place of Publication: Publisher's Name, Year. 000 pp. Hardcover ($00.00), softcover ($00.00), or e-book (open source).
- ◆ Include citations for all quotations from the book under review and for the locations in it of specific ideas by enclosing the relevant page numbers in parentheses after each quotation or statement. Cite any other references in footnotes, following the “Documentation I” system of The Chicago Manual of Style. Cite works in full the first time and by short title thereafter; do not use ibid.
- ◆ List your name and your institution at the end of the review, with an email address for correspondence.
- ◆ For other style matters, follow Chicago or see our complete style manual or our shorter style guide for the authors of articles; both are available at https://www.press.jhu.edu/journals/twentieth-century\_china (Author Guidelines section, Manuscript Preparation subsection).
